WINTER MOVING INTO MID-WEST; DUE THIS EVE

Rocky Mountain States In Grip Of Blizzard And Zero Weather

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(UP)—Heralded by howling winds, falling thermometers and threats of snow, winter was moving across the Mississippi river into the heart of the middle west today and will be firmly entrenched by tonight.

The Rocky Mountain region was mantled in white today, snow was expected to fall in the plains states during the day, and rain will turn to snow in parts of the middle west tonight.

Temperatures, which have been hesitating uncertainly for days will begin a definite downward climb and will reach the freezing point tonight with still further drops forecast tomorrow. Strong winds will add to the discomfort in some parts of the middle west.

Very Cold In West.

Winter already has made its icy breath felt in the Rocky Mountain region. Temperatures in Colorado fell as low as four degrees below zero. Highways were blocked by snow. One death was reported.

The story of a tragic battle with the elements was related by two youths, near collapse from starvation and the intense cold, who stumbled into the Spanish settlement of La Saucos, Colo., after fighting their way through a blinding blizzard in the Sangre de Cristo Mountains.

The boys, Frank Salazar, 19, and his cousin, Fred Salazar, 19, reported the death of Alfred Salazar, 17, from the cold. They had to fight the blizzard afoot after their team of horses broke away.

Automobiles Stalled. Bus service had been suspended between Denver and Colby Kan., and dozens of automobiles were stalled on snow-filled highways in the eastern part of Colorado. Rescue parties dug a school bus out of a snowdrift in El Paso county.

School children in the blizzard as they tried to get to their homes, were forced to spend the night in ranchhouses. Hunters were marooned in mountain cabins at various places in the west and rescue parties were searching for a number of persons reported lost.

More than 20 automobiles loaded with men sought four hunters yesterday until word was received they had found shelter in a cabin twenty miles from Fort Morgan.

Gets $2,500 Award Poison Rum Death

East St. Louis, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—A federal court jury today returned a verdict awarding Mrs. Hanna Tribout of Belleville $2,500 judgment in her $10,000 damage suit against Steve Lisch, also of Belleville, for the death of her son from poison liquor which the alleged Lisch sold to him.

The case, tried yesterday, went to the jury last night and the verdict was returned with the opening of court today. Mrs. Tribout's son, William Wiescheide, died January 31, 1927. Authorities found death was due to poison liquor and Mrs. Tribout contended he and his brother, Ned, purchased it from Lisch at the latter's home.

T., P. & W. Railroad Employees Walk Out

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 13.—(UP)—No trains are being run today on the Toledo, Peoria & Western Railroad as the result of a general strike called today.

Patterson, vice president of the Order of Railroad Trainmen, with other labor officials have been here seeking an increase in pay in all departments. Trouble has been brewing since 1925 when eastern lines advanced the pay of employees, the union contending that the Toledo, Peoria & Western is rated as an eastern line.

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Declaring that the Jones law deprives the accused of the right of trial by jury, Attorney John E. Daugherty late yesterday assailed the constitutionality of the law before Federal Judge Louis Fitzhugh and asked for a ruling. Judge Fitzhugh instructed him to file briefs.

Battered Star Hero Medal For Boy From Brother

South Chicago Heights, Ill., Nov. 13.—(UP)—A battered carnival star with "Sheriff" pressed in the tin was the hero's medal pinned today on the breast of Edward Mankske, 5, as he lay dead in his home.

Ronald, his 4-year-old brother, whom Edward gave his life to save from drowning yesterday, tipped into the room unseen and pinned his most prized possession on Edward's breast.

"We always took turns wearing it," Ronald explained through his tears. "Now it's Edward's turn forever."

Although he did not know how to swim, Edward plunged into the six-foot water of a stream near the boys' home after Ronald fell in. The older brother was able to push the younger near enough to the bank for a playmate to pull the little fellow to safety.

But Edward sank and firemen who recovered his body were unable to revive him.

ROMANCE ENDS IN SHOOTING OF MAN AND WOMAN

Divorced Wife of Jas. Curwood, Author, Shot In Mouth

Orlando, Fla., Nov. 13.—(UP)—A story of a romance which led to a double shooting and a possible charge of assault with intent to murder was told to Orange county authorities here today by R. C. Patton, a traveling salesman of Lima, Ohio. Sheriff Frank Karel announced that Patton admitted more than six years of association with Mrs. Cora L. Eden, divorced wife of James Oliver Curwood, late novelist, and also admitted he shot and seriously wounded her and himself yesterday. Patton's condition is the more critical of the two. He is suffering from a gunshot wound in the chest. Mrs. Eden, although shot in the mouth, was expected to recover.

The shooting climaxed Patton's unsuccessful efforts to effect a reconciliation with the late novelist's former wife, he told Sheriff Karel. He had lost his money, he said, and had come here to renew their association. "Mrs. Eden ordered him off her property and followed him to the front yard of her home with a gun and a dog," the Sheriff said Patton admitted to him. "In a fit of rage at her refusal to make up, Patton shot her and then himself."

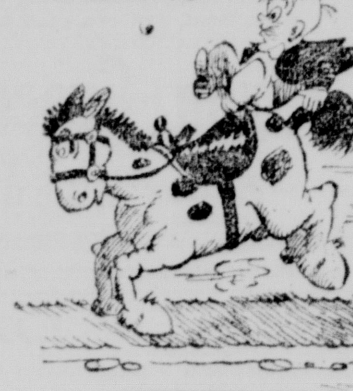

A charge of assault with intent to murder will be filed against Patton, if he recovers, the sheriff said.

CITY WILL HELP MOVE TO OBTAIN MORE ROAD TAX

Joins Rockford Mayor in Effort To Bring Tax Equalization

Mayor Frank D. Palmer of this city has joined with Mayor Hallstrom of Rockford in an effort to secure legislation with a view of equalizing road and bridge taxes in cities and townships under the township organization plan. It was outlined at last evening's meeting of the city council. As matters exist in Dixon and Dixon township, the road and bridge tax is levied, and a greater amount paid by the city than the township. The fund is then equally divided, but the cost of collecting the fund is taken from the city's share.

The same condition exists in many other cities in Illinois, including Rockford, where the first steps were taken to change the practice. Mayor Palmer explained the action to the members of the council and referred to several communications from Mayor Hallstrom of Rockford who is a leader in the movement to bring about a change. Cities organized under the township plan at present are without recourse, it was explained. The present plan calls for the drafting of a proposed bill to be presented at the next session of the Illinois legislature by which the objectionable features will be eliminated.

Complaint was made to the council of the practice of parking cars all night on the city streets without tail lights. It was reported that on some of the state highway routes passing through the city cars were parked all night without lights. The greatest objection was on streets which are poorly lighted and where numerous narrow escapes from serious collisions have been experienced.

The council unanimously passed local improvement ordinance No. 252, which covers the paving and improving of north side streets west of Galena avenue.

DECLARES BOMB "CONFESSION" IS HALLUCINATION

Mooney's Prosecutor Says Smith Story Is Not Sound

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Declaring the alleged deathbed statement of Lewis Smith of Bellaire, O., assuming responsibility for the San Francisco Preparedness Day bombing in 1916, could not be based on fact, Charles M. Fickert, Los Angeles attorney, said today the confession either was a "hallucination" of a sick man or was "fabricated" after his death for the purpose of aiding the Mooney agitation.

Fickert was District Attorney of San Francisco county during the trial of Thomas J. Mooney in 1916. Mooney is serving a life term in San Quentin prison for the bombing.

The alleged confession of Lewis Smith is just some more misinformation, Fickert said. "His statement that the bomb was thrown shows that he was ignorant of what occurred there. All the physical facts prove that the bomb was, with a time clock to detonate it, was enclosed in a suitcase and left at the scene of the explosion, and that it could not possibly have been thrown."

Echo Of Pantages Case In New Trial

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The case of Harold H. Dolley, a private detective charged with attempting to tamper with witnesses in the recent trial of Alexander Pantages, was expected to reach the jury some time today.

Ivan Sampsonoff, who testified in the Pantages trial, which resulted in the conviction of the theater magnate on a charge of attacking Enrico Pringie, 17-year-old dancer, was called to the stand in the Dolley case yesterday.

Sampsonoff testified that Dolley attempted to bribe him to testify falsely in Pantages' favor.

Aged Man Killed As He Neared His Home

Charleson, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—John Cross, 80, got tired of the Old Folks Home and early yesterday started to walk back to his old home in Shelby county. An autoist gave him a lift and he got as far as Mattoon. After walking a bit farther he turned back, discouraged at his slowness, and cloudy weather.

He got as far back as the Big Four bridge over the Embarras river, four miles west of Charleston. A west bound train struck him and killed him instantly.

It is estimated that 15,000 public speeches are made every day of the week throughout the year.

Death Came in Springfield, Mo., Hotel Last Evening

George S. Beal, well-known Dixon retired commercial salesman and highly respected citizen dropped dead in his room in the Metropolitan Hotel in Springfield, Mo., last evening while seated in a chair conversing with a physician whom he had summoned for illness which came over him during the afternoon.

He had left Dixon Sunday morning in his automobile en route to California where he planned to spend the winter, and he arrived in Springfield, Mo., Monday, a letter received this morning by his son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Ross, stated. When he wrote the note he apparently was in good health, for he pronounced himself "O. K." and recited the pleasure he was having on his trip. He spent Monday and Tuesday visiting friends in Springfield and returned to his hotel shortly after 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, eating an early dinner after which he summoned the physician.

Associated Press advices from Springfield to The Telegraph stated that his death was the result of heart failure and that the body will be sent to Dixon for burial.

Born Near This City. Mr. Beal was born southeast of Dixon, Oct. 7, 1861, and his childhood and young manhood were spent in this vicinity. Shortly after his marriage he and his wife, who preceded him in death a year ago last August, lived in Alma Camp, Colo., for a short time, then came to this city where they made their home.

POLICE SERGEANT IS TAKEN AS ONE OF BLACKMAILERS

Trapped in Shop Where He Had Been Given Marked Money

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—A strange blackmail and counterfeiting conspiracy implicating a Chicago Police Sergeant, three men of Paris, Ill., and another in Keokuk, Ia., apparently had been uncovered today following the arrest of the Sergeant and one of his alleged aides.

The three men in Paris whose names were given as Howard Ward, 30, Joseph Yerkes, 35, and John Dobins 65 also had been sized and investigators said they were seeking a fourth man Harry Robbins in Keokuk.

The Chicago Police Sergeant, William Begley, and his accused aide, J. E. Dewey, were captured last night when they walked into a trap set for them by State's Attorney's investigators who had been informed of their scheme by Jean B. Hassewer, a cabinet maker, who said he had been lured of $2,200.

Policeman Trapped. Sergeant Begley and Dewey were lured to Hassewer's shop on the pretense that he was to give them $500 more.

The cabinet maker had a check for $200 and $300 in marked bill ready for the pair when they arrived. Detectives were hidden in the shop and after Hassewer had handed over the money the officers broke in. Begley put up a fight but was beaten senseless. The money later was found hidden in his undergarments.

Hassewer said the scheme operated by the Police Sergeant and his accomplices was based on a fake counterfeiting machine which appeared to transform $1 bills into $100 bills. They tricked their victims into investing in the counterfeiting device and then, claiming the government had gotten on their trail, demanded more money of their victims in order to "fix" the case, Hassewer said.

RAGAN IDENTIFIED AS ROBBER OF TWO BANKS RECENTLY

Got $3,333 From Grant Park Bank; Tried To Rob Another

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Officials of two more banks today identified William S. Ragan, Indianapolis and Chicago business man, as a robber.

Ragan, who was brought here from Chicago after confessing an attempt to rob the State Bank of Fishers, Ill., was pointed out as the man who, working alone, took $3,333 from the First National Bank of Grant Park, Ill., last May 23.

The identification was made by Cashier P. A. Hubbell and Assistant Cashier J. W. Ruge and both said they were positive. Hubbell said the robber was dressed in overalls when he entered the bank and threatened him and Ruge with a gun.

Second Identification. The second identification was made by officials of the State Bank of Oxford, Ind., who accused Ragan of attempting to hold up that bank a week ago today. The bank officers were R. H. Morse, Cashier, and J. W. Johnson, President. Further identification was made by C. F. McClure, a restaurant owner, who said Ragan ate in his establishment the day of the robbery attempt, and C. W. Shlups, owner of a nearby store, who was in the bank and saw him.

Johnson said he touched a burglar alarm and the robber fled without any money.

To Waive Hearing.

An attorney for the Linde Air Products Company, which employed Ragan as a plant superintendent, was to talk to Ragan today. The prisoner has indicated, it was reported, that he will waive preliminary hearing.

Officials of one other bank, The Farmers Bank of Buckingham, are on the way to view Ragan. This bank recently was robbed by a single robber, whose description tallies with that of Ragan.

Ragan was wounded after his attempt to rob the Fisher bank, was traced, through license plates, to a Chicago hospital.

Senate Plans To Take Week's Rest

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—An adjournment of the tariff-wary Senate for a week of rest before starting down the long road of the regular session, today seemed virtually assured.

Such a course had the approval of Chairman Snoot of the Finance committee, who speaks for the administration Republican group, and of Senator Simmons of North Carolina, a Democratic spokesman on tariff questions.

The only indeterminate factor was the attitude of the group of independent western Republicans and there were indications that the proposal found favor with them as well.

The controversial question of tariff on staples was the major subject of today's debate. A vote was deferred until today in order that Senator Walsh of Montana, acting Democratic leader might deliver an address.

Ottawa Recluse Is Found Dead Tuesday

Ottawa, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—Vincent Webber, 30, recluse butcher, who lived on the fourth floor of a deserted packing plant, was slain last week by robbers who are believed to have stolen large sum of money he is known to have had.

Webber's body, the face beaten beyond recognition and the feet and one hand bound with shoestrings, was found yesterday, stuffed into a barrel in the basement of the plant. He apparently had been slain in his living quarters, his body dragged down the four flights of stairs, then tumbled into the basement, where it was jammed into the barrel.

The slaying was discovered by police, who were summoned by W. H. Springfield, Webber's employer.

Webber came to Ottawa six years ago from Germany.

Ask Supreme Court To Rule On Losses

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—(AP)—The state supreme court has been asked to rule on the question of whether a debt for losses suffered in grain trade operations is collectable or whether it is to be classified as a gambling debt and not binding.

The suit is by the Chicago Brokerage firm of Rioridan, Martin & Co. It seeks to collect $55,000 on notes given by William McCabe, a Bureau county farmer. The notes were to cover sums lost through operation in the Chicago grain market. The brokerage firm has sued to foreclose on property given by McCabe as security.

A ruling by the Bureau County court was that McCabe did not have to pay because his losses resulted from gambling. This opinion was upheld by the Appellate Court.

Cabinet Member Has Emergency Operation Today

Secretary of War in President Hoover's cabinet who underwent a serious emergency operation for "gangrenous, perforating appendicitis" at Walter Reed Hospital in Washington this morning. The operation required two hours and the Secretary's condition was reported as "extremely serious."

SEC. GOOD VERY ILL FOLLOWING HIS OPERATION

Secretary Of War Under Surgeon's Knife in Capital Today

Washington, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Secretary of War James S. Good underwent a difficult operation for gangrenous, perforating appendicitis at Walter Reed Hospital today and his condition was described as extremely serious.

The operation lasted more than an hour. Surgeons on the Walter Reed Hospital staff performed the operation, which was determined upon after the War Secretary was stricken last night.

The surgeons found the appendix in an exceptionally dangerous condition and it was situated very low in the pelvis, making the operation unusually difficult.

After the operation physicians said they did not minimize the danger of his condition. They added, however, that Mr. Good was in as good condition as could be expected under the circumstances.

The information regarding his condition was made public at the White House where secretaries of President Hoover kept in constant communication with Walter Reed, the Army hospital, so that the President could be apprised of any turn in the situation.

Secretary Good is 62 years old. He had not been in the best of health recently but his friends were surprised to learn of the sudden attack.

TRADING AGAIN ON TREMENDOUS SCALE TODAY

However Confidence Is Reflected By Market Leaders At Close

BY ELMER C. WALZER United Press Financial Editor

New York, Nov. 13.—(UP)—Another tremendous trading day on the Stock Exchange found prices today in a fresh downward rout, with new lows established on many issues. There was nothing of spectacular nature, however. Drops were orderly. Despite the further sags from yesterday's lows, there was a confident tone prevailing.

The opening was on the tremendous scale that has characterized markets ever since the downswing started a fortnight ago. At the end of the first half hour, it was found that trading had been at the rate of 18,000,000 for a full five hour day. By closing time, trading had eased down somewhat but the day found more than 7,000,000 shares traded.

Steel Again Leads. United States Steel again led in the action. There was support given steel during the morning to which the market reacted. But there was lack of support for steel later, and the whole market slid down.

Steel opened at 156, rose to around 160 and then dropped to around 150. It closed last night at 153. Steel's low is a new 1929 low. Dozens of other leaders made new 1929 lows and elsewhere more than 200 shares dropped to new minimum levels for the year or longer.

Huge blocks of stocks held by wealthy individuals were put up for sale. They were taken by individuals who believe that the turn was not far distant.

Buyers For All Offers. The encouraging thing about the market was that a buyer was found for nearly every offer. This indicated to traders that the banking group was taking a hand. However, that was not verified and no word was given that the banking group had got together today.

The break in Steel was ascribed in some quarters to reports of a falling off in operations of the corporation to 75 per cent of capacity from 80 per cent a week ago. That information, however, was available before the opening and in the first half hour the stock bounded upward from yesterday's low.

Railroad stocks were supposed to be sold on the decline reported in car loadings for the week ended November 2. These decreased 62,160 from the preceding week and 32,292 cars from the same week of 1928. However, they were still well above 1927. In railroad circles the falling off was laid to normal seasonal changes and was not considered an indication of poor business head.

Officials Unworried. Near the close word came from Washington that no emergency existed. This was made in response to numerous messages suggesting that the government take action in the present economic situation. It was said that officials of Washington after a survey of New York and other financial centers have accounts vastly more reassuring than those painted in the messages to the White House, Treasury and

BEST CUSTOMERS OF LIQUOR RING ASKED FOR STORY

Government To Call Big Men In Trial Of Rum Runners' Head

By JOSEPH S. WASNEY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Copyright, 1929, by United Press
Washington, Nov. 13—(UP)—The "best customers" of a large New York rum ring—including several millionaires, society women, a moving picture star and a former diplomat—are expected to be summoned as witnesses in the trial of Count Polignac, head of the Gobart Company, an alleged bootleg concern when the case is called in New York courts.

Justice Department officials said today the case was entirely in the hands of Assistant U. S. Attorney Robert Watts of New York, but it was made plain the alleged patrons of the rum ring were expected to be called to testify about liquor purchases.

While the Department has not determined whether the customers, many listed in "Who's Who" and in the New York social register, should be prosecuted for conspiracy to violate the dry law, it was pointed out that in view of the recent Norris case in Philadelphia, where a liquor purchaser was acquitted, this procedure was unlikely.

Reports were current here that because of the importance of the customers involved, efforts had been made to hush the entire case. The records held by Watts, including carbon copies of liquor orders bearing the names of the purchasers, have been impounded to prevent information regarding the patrons from being obtained.

White House Gets Data
Attorney General Mitchell has been given all data in the case and Watts has made several trips here recently to discuss the matter with Justice and Treasury officials. It is also understood a full report of the case, in the form of a memorandum has been sent to the White House.

Authoritative information about the ring and its customers purport to show that it delivered 245 cases of liquor to the Long Island estate of a prominent business man. Charges for this service were $60 a case although the liquor was purchased abroad by the owner at a cost of about $25,000. The liquor was brought to America as general cargo, labeled dinnerware and eatware.

No action has been taken against the steamship company for transporting the liquor. An investigation of the action is underway but officials said it was unlikely that the steamer line knew it was transporting contraband.

Failed In Attempt To Rob Navy Base

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—Eight men, carrying pistols, drove up in an Navy supply building in Brooklyn to automobile to the United States

1 A. M. today, overpowered the officer of the day and his guards and worked for nearly five hours in an unsuccessful attempt to force the safe, said to contain $86,000.

Falling in their object, the men fled in their car. A preliminary check said nothing of value was taken from the building, which is located in Third avenue and 29th Street.

The holdup men, police said, had evidently made a careful plan of attack and had an intimate knowledge of the building. Lieut. Clinton "Two" the Officer of the Day, was covered by pistols and had no chance to resist before he was seized. His five guards were overpowered, one by one, and all six were tied up with bed sheets. They were then thrown into the "brig," the Navy jail.

The men then went directly to the eighth floor where the big safe is located and worked on the safe until the approach of daylight when they gave up the attempt and escaped.

Dr. Peterson Tells The Ladies, Today
Chicago, Ill., Nov. 13—(UP)—New styles calling for more plump figures forecast a lowering of the tuberculosis mortality rate among young women according to Dr. William F. Peterson, College of Medicine, University of Illinois in a radio talk here today. The number of deaths in practically all other age groups has been showing a progressive lowering he said.

Dieting, improper dress and industrial activity were blamed by Peterson for the present high tuberculosis death rate among young women.

"They often under-eat," he says, "they do not only eat a light breakfast, but a light lunch and meager dinner. With curves coming into style again, however, it may be that the fear of starvation will be ancient history before long and we may see the tuberculosis death rate starting down."

"Women have gone into industries in greater numbers. This work comes at a time of great body activity incidental to sex development and child bearing. Many add the unnecessary strain of strenuous social activities to an already overburdened schedule."

EVENING IN A LONDON SQUARE

THE sky is like a yellow lamp, half lit.
In a soft room,
And trees and houses are a-glow with it,
From windows in the houses around about
Facing the Square,
Bright little suns, through curtain net, peep out
Reflected there.
In dim retard, the motif of the day
Is sweetly blown
Through changing keys, an observed way
To tonic tone.

While fades above the roofs the pale-ing sky
To faint primrose,
Till the last petal, like a butterfly,
Flutters and goes.

World Famous Violinist at Mt. Morris

The administration of Mount Morris College has secured one of the outstanding musical features of the year for the opening number of the fall and winter concert season. Mme.

Estelle Gray-Lhevinne, the world-famous violinist, and hailed by art critics throughout the world as the outstanding woman violinist of the age, will appear Saturday evening, evening, Nov. 16 at 8 P. M. at Mount

Morris College Chapel. Mme. Gray-

Lhevinne very graciously consented to appear at Mount Morris in order that music lovers of the community and surrounding territory might have the opportunity to hear in person a concert that has attracted tens of thousands in the great cities of the United States. That this is indeed an unusual privilege is seen at once when it is known that Mme.

Gray-Lhevinne has appeared before

175,395 admirers of good music in the last three months and gave 245 concerts last season. Admirers of good music in the Rock River Valley will never again have the opportunity of enjoying for 50 and 25 cents a concert that costs from $2 to $5 in the larger cities.

The violin which Mme. Gray-Lhevinne uses is the same one played on by Mozart as a child, Donizetti and Paganini. She is accompanied at the piano by her small son, Laddie Gray, who is already hailed by critics as a pianist of exceptional ability. Dressed in an exact replica of the costume in which Mozart appeared before the crowned heads of Europe, his appearance lends a touch of variety and spice to the program which has never failed to charm audiences.

Mme. Gray-Lhevinne's career has been a most unusual one. Her entire musical education has been won by a series of scholarships. At the age of eight she gave her first unassisted violin recital to an audience of fifteen hundred persons at the Alhambra Theatre in San Francisco, Calif. At this time she played the entire Mendelssohn concerto from memory with orchestral accompanment. By the time she was sixteen she had won New York with a series of recitals at the Waldorf Astoria. It was at this time that Theodore Roosevelt said of her, "You have absorbed the message of your great

West." At seventeen she made her first transcontinental tour.

Before she reached the age of twenty this vivid violinist she had a two years' successful tour of European art centers. She was asked to accept a life membership in the

Cleveland Musical Association, an honor bestowed upon few women—

the other life members are Walter

Damrosch, Mischa Elman, Schumann-Heink, Leonard Liebling, Oscar Gabrilowitch, Margaret Matzen-suer, Joseph Hofmann, Reinold Werrenrath, Fieda Hempel, Tito Schipa,

Calvi-Curci and Rachmaninoff.

No one can survey the successful career of this artist, and fail to recognize that Mme. Gray-Lhevinne is indeed the leading woman violinist of the decade. The administration of Mount Morris College extends a cordial invitation to music lovers in

Dixon to enjoy with the community of Mount Morris this exceptional concert program. Tickets can be secured in advance from the Business

Manager's Office, Mount Morris College.

TALKING ABOUT PEACE.

There is altogether too much talk, says Benito Mussolini, about peace these days.

The Italian premier, beetling his brows in the true strong-man tradition, is vexed. He tells his subjects that it is idle to talk about peace; that there are crises in international affairs when there is no way out but war, and that only fools will suppose that talking will remedy matters.

It is quite true that more has been said and written about peace in the last year than in the whole decade preceding it. You cannot pick up any newspaper or magazine without reading some appeal for peace. It has actually become possible for an American to urge a reduction in the size of the navy without being branded as a second Benedict Arnold.

The question, however, is this—just how much good is all of this talking and writing going to do? Are we really bringing world peace nearer? Or is Mussolini right? Will there presently come a time when all of our fair words will be blown away and we shall plunge frantically into another war, as we have in the past?

The answer, of course, is—it's up to us. We can have continued peace if we really want it. War is never "inevitable." It is never, as Mussolini says, the only practical way out of a difficulty.

Consider, for instance, the situation in 1914.

Looking back, it seems almost incredible that the war should have begun as it did. Nobody wanted it. Surely, no one will contend that the murder of an Austrian archduke by a Serbian fanatic made it necessary for all of Europe to go to war.

The foreign offices of the nations involved, however, were cursed with the presence of a number of gentlemen who had Mussolini's idea—the idea that war is the only way of settling a dispute between nations. So war came; and the world paid, for the blindness of those statesmen, some 5,000,000 young lives.

Now, eleven years after the close of that war, the world is talking about peace. And die-hards of the old school, like Mussolini, are resentful. They are trying to tell us that we are doomed, forever, to go on blundering from one catastrophe to another.

If we are wise, we will go on talking about peace; talking about it in season and out of season, until the closed minds of the Mussolini of this world are cracked open and a little day light seeps in to enlighten them.

We can have everlasting peace if we want it. And the only way to prove that we want it is to keep talking about it.

FOR A NATIONAL POLICE FORCE.

Richard Enright, former police commissioner of New York City, did not exactly establish himself as a giant of a man while he held office; nevertheless, his recent suggestion for a national police system, in which city and state police organizations would come under some measure of federal regulation, is worth a lot of study.

The criminal in America is greatly helped by the fact that each police force is a separate unit. Any co-operation between the forces of two different cities is entirely voluntary. Our decentralized system gives the crook an enormous advantage.

It is only necessary to contrast ordinary police work with the work of the postal inspectors. The man who robs the U. S. mails is almost always run to earth, sooner or later. Why? Simply because he is up against a national police system, which can cover the entire country quickly and efficiently.

Mr. Enright's idea deserves serious consideration.

The investigation of the capital may not reveal that Washington is dry, but so long as they keep printing the Congressional Record there will be one very dry article there anyway.

Several senators are said to be vexed with President Hoover because he rejected their advice on debentures. That should be a good recommendation in case the president should resign and hunt up another job.

THE TINYMITES

(READ THE STORY, THEN COLOR THE PICTURE)

The big man held the Tiniest tight, but didn't squeeze with all his might. He knew that that would hurt them and he wasn't really mean. A real good scare would do them good and so he scared as best he could by shouting very loudly and creating quite a scene.

His voice then broke out, very strong, as he exclaimed, "If I'm not wrong, you little fellows ate the food that I had for my lunch. I saw you when you jumped right out of my big pail. There's not a doubt that you had planned your little trick. It was a naughty lunch."

"Now, what am I to do with you? You must admit that it is true that you deserve some punishment. I guess I'll spank you good. And then again you're pretty small. That wouldn't seem quite fair to all. I'm much too big to do it and I hardly think I should."

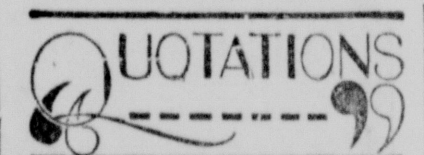

"Then Scouty spoke up with a plea. 'Oh, Mister Big Man, can't you see that we are very sorry and we'll never do it again? You see, we're only little boys who like to play and make much noise. All little fellows seem to get in trouble now and then."

"Ah, ha, I have it," said the man. "I've thought of quite a clever plan. I'll take you all right to my hut and put you all to work. You took my lunch, so very quickly you'll cook another meal real slick. I will not harm a one of you unless you start to shirk."

So, to the little hut they went and 'bout a half an hour was spent in getting things ready for the big man to eat. Around the stove one Tiny hopped. They all worked till they almost dropped. The big man watched them. Then he said, "This ought to be a treat."

(Lunch is served by the Tiniest in the next story.)

SOUTH CAROLINA SECEDES

On Nov. 13, 1860, the South Carolina legislature called a convention to consider secession from the Union as a result of President Lincoln's election.

"The convention met on Dec. 20 and immediately passed an ordinance of secession. When the attack on Fort Sumter precipitated the Civil War the following April, South Carolina furnished 60,000 soldiers to the Confederate armies, although her voting population was only about 47,000."

A provisional governor was appointed in South Carolina at the close of the war and a new constitution adopted. On the refusal of the state to ratify the 14th amendment, a military government was established. In 1868, another constitution allowing negro suffrage was adopted and the state was re-admitted June 25th of that year.

Today is also the anniversary of John Drew, famous American actor, the son of John Drew and Louisa Lane Drew. Young Drew began his theatrical career under his mother's management in Philadelphia in 1873.

DIPHTHERIA ON INCREASE SAYS STATE DIRECTOR

Prompt Counter-Action is Necessary To Prevent Spread

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 13.—(UP)—Diphtheria cases are developing at the rate of 1,000 a month in Illinois and prompt counter action is necessary to halt a still more serious spread of the disease, according to an announcement by the state department of public health here today.

Case reports are now well above two hundred per week and the prospects favor a still greater increase unless steps are taken to halt its spread, the department announcement stated.

The number of diphtheria cases in Illinois today is greater than that of any other state in the Union, according to Dr. Andy Hall, department director. The case reports in New York state he said, where a determined anti-diphtheria program is in progress are only one-half of one percent of what they are in Illinois, while the prevalence in Pennsylvania is considerably lower than here.

"Fresh cases of diphtheria are now developing in Illinois at the rate of 1,000 per month," Dr. Hall said. "Last week 235 cases were reported against 106 during the first week in September, an increase of more than 100 percent. The late arrival of fall has probably postponed the period of the heaviest prevalence so that a continued increase may not be unexpected. Case reports now stand 25 percent above those for the corresponding period in 1928 and higher than for any other previous year since 1923."

"In New York state only 671 cases were reported between September first and October 26 against 1,193 in Illinois and 1008 in Pennsylvania. Low prevalence in New York is attributed entirely to the successful campaign which has resulted in immunizing hundreds of thousands of children during the last few years. The low prevalence in Pennsylvania is explained in the same way. Illinois would probably be suffering from a major epidemic were it not for the considerable amount of immunizing already done here."

"Prompt diagnosis and treatment with antitoxin will lead to the recovery of practically all patients who get the disease in spite of preventive efforts. Extensive experience indicates no loss of life when antitoxin is given in adequate dosage on the first day after onset. To give antitoxin later than the third day after onset has little influence over the course of the disease."

"Case reports are coming from widely separated points in the state, indicating general distribution. Exposure has therefore been extensive so that the development at any point, even though free of the disease up to date, may be regarded with no surprise."

Daily Health Talk

PNEUMONIA

St. Johns, Mich.

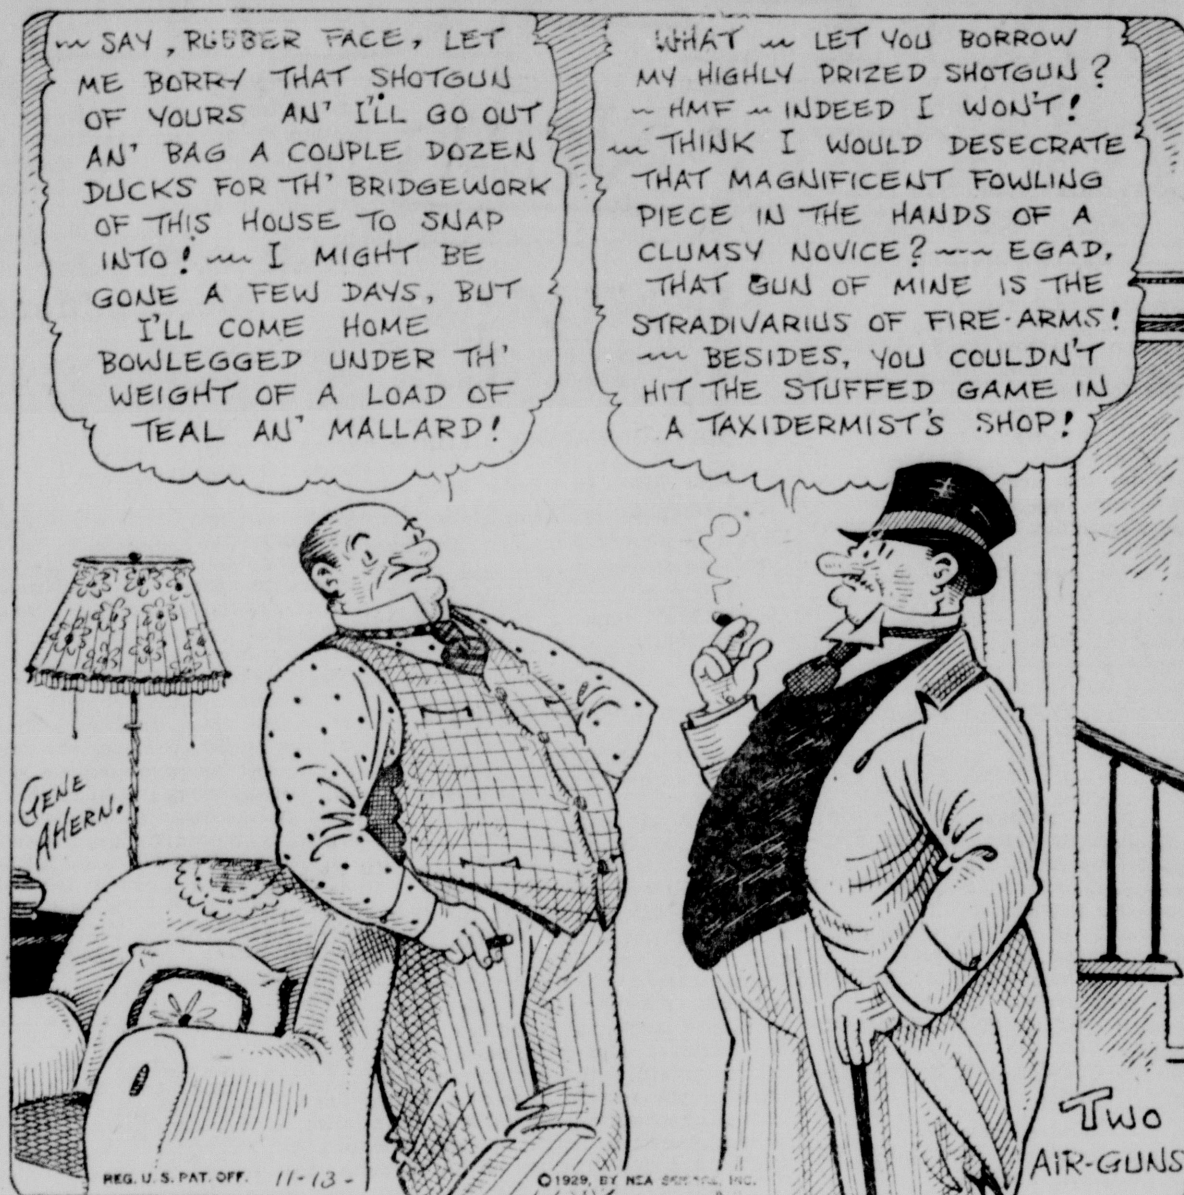

"This series of articles is prepared under the direction of the Gorgas Memorial Institute, which is organized to perpetuate the life work of the late Major-General Gorgas in preventing unnecessary illness. Headquarters of the Institute are at 1331 G Street, N. W., Washington, D. C."

Pneumonia is second only to heart disease as a cause of death. It is the cause of the loss of many valuable lives between the ages of twenty-five and forty-five, the period of greatest activity.

This disease is caused by bacteria of which there are several groups.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

BY AHERN

The mortality varies from fifteen to forty per cent and while much can be done by well trained physicians to carry the patient through this disease, there has as yet been found no specific cure for it. The germs of Pneumonia are almost constantly present in the mouths and throats of over fifty per cent of people in good health. It is therefore evident that human being, when in normal health, possess a natural immunity to it and can only acquire this disease when this natural immunity is lessened or destroyed.

The prevention of Pneumonia seems to consist largely in the maintenance of this natural immunity. There is, at present, no method known for rendering people permanently immune to it, such as there is for Diphtheria and several other diseases. It seems impossible to prevent the presence of Pneumonia germs in the respiratory passages.

It seems to me from observation during many years of practice that there are at least five causes of lowered immunity that are of importance in relation to this disease. Common colds are due to different germs than those causing Pneumonia. But such colds may so lower the normal resistance as to render the body susceptible to attack by Pneumonia germs, especially if some of the other causes are, at the same time, operative.

Sudden changes of temperature under certain conditions, are a frequent cause of lowered resistance to Pneumonia and should be guarded against.

Over-work means working too long hours rather than too hard. If, during a time of great activity and stress, person acquires a cold and then has occasion to worry and lose sleep, an excellent background for this disease may result.

If people in active life, when afflicted with colds which are tight, cause fever or loss of appetite, should promptly lay off work and stay in bed or rest until the severe symptoms abate, Pneumonia might many times be avoided. I have repeatedly known persons who, through neglect of these precautions, have lost their lives from this disease. During the period of a common cold, even without the above symptoms, due care should be taken to eat regularly, avoid over-work and get sufficient sleep. Periodical health examinations by a competent physician will often reveal conditions which must be corrected in order to maintain normal resistance to acute diseases.

While Pneumonia is somewhat contagious and precautions should be taken to prevent its spread, the necessity of maintaining natural immunity should be ever borne in mind.

Defaulting Banker Sentenced To Cell

Urbana, Ill., Nov. 12.—(AP)—John H. Thornburn, former president of the Urbana Banking Company, was sentenced to one to ten years in Southern Illinois penitentiary at Chester today on a charge of embezzling $100,000 from his bank. Sentence was pronounced by Judge D. H. Wansley in Circuit Court.

The bank was closed by the State Auditor Oct. 21, when the shortage became known and Thornburn disappeared. He was missing a week. Returning, he surrendered and confessed having misappropriated $100,000 from the funds of the Urbana Board of Education on deposit with the bank.

He was indicted last week, pleaded guilty and Judge Wansley of Tuscola was called to pronounce sentence. The sitting judge, Franklin H. Boggs, withdrew because he was a stockholder in the bank.

SALES FOR YEAR IN WALL ST. GO OVER A BILLION

Livermore, Leader Of the Bears, Says Many
Stocks Too Low

New York, Nov. 13—(AP)—Annual sales on the New York Stock Exchange were over the billion share mark for the first time in history today after another session of heavy liquidation in which new lows for the year were set.

When the ticker stopped running two hours and 12 minutes after the close yesterday a day's sales of 6,452,700 shares had been recorded and the total since the first of the year was 1,001,010,230 shares.

Persistent selling which overwhelmed several incipient rallies during the three-hour session drove market leaders down two to 20 points while net losses of 25 to 106 points were suffered by some of the less active issues.

The banking group which organized to stabilize the market after the break Oct. 24 held aloof yesterday. No statement was issued.

The New York Times today quotes Jesse L. Livermore, noted trader, who has been bearish, as follows:

"Leading stocks, with good dividend records and a certain future are on the bargain counter right now. Many of them have been driven down too far. People throughout the country have become panic stricken and have thrown their sound securities over without regard to values. To my mind this situation should go no further."

WANTS SENATE PROBE
Washington, Nov. 13 — (AP)—An investigation of the New York Stock Exchange is suggested by Senator Borah of Idaho, in answer to a banker's assertion that the recent collapse of security prices was caused by the tariff activities of the Senate's Democratic-Independent-Republican coalition.

Seizing upon this statement a challenge, Borah, a leader of the independent group, hinted at such an inquiry but did not go to the point of introducing a resolution providing for this course.

Meanwhile, the Senate was confronted with notice from Heflin of Alabama, of a call for action today upon his resolution providing for an inquiry into speculative activities on the New York, New Orleans and Chicago Cotton Exchanges and the effect of stock price trends upon the price of cotton.

The statement that the coalition was responsible for the stock market collapse was made, Borah said late yesterday, by Fred I. Kent, a director of the Bankers' Trust Company of New York, in a speech before an audience of New York bankers.

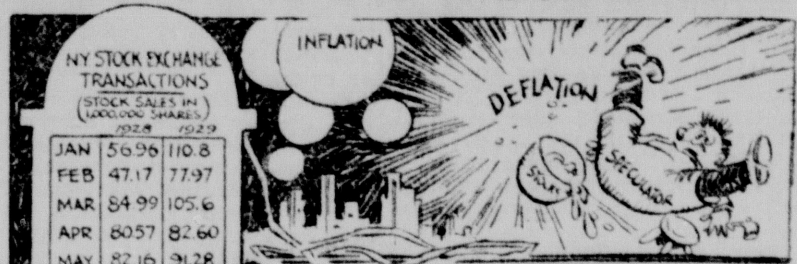

Borah asserted that "an institution which gets frightened because agriculture is making an honest fight for existence is not worth preserving," and added, "but that is not the matter with the Stock Exchange." Kent he said, "likely knows more than he wants to tell."

He went on to say that "it might be well to investigate the exchange and give the people the real facts."

STOCK CRASH TO PROVE GOOD FOR BUSINESS

BY ALLARD SMITH
Vice President, The Union Trust Company,
Cleveland, O.

HISTORIC events have crowded the annals of the New York Stock Exchange during recent weeks. Not only has there been a decline of share prices of unparalleled scope, but all records for trading have been broken. In October total sales on the New York Exchange were 141,668,410 shares. The previous high record was in November, 1928, with a total of 115,432,835 shares. The large aggregate for October was largely the result of the gigantic landslide of liquidation during the closing days of the month.

For the last nine trading sessions of October, $1,000,000 shares were bought and sold, or nearly one-half of the total sales for the first 10 months of 1929.

From the peak in September to the low point of October 29, average prices of stocks on the New York Stock Exchange dropped about 45 per cent. This was equal to the most drastic declines in financial history, with the important difference that it took place in a few weeks while other great comparable recessions have extended over periods ranging from one to two and one-half years.

While the sharp reaction with its losses to many security holders will have some adverse effect upon buying power, yet probably not more than 4 per cent of the country's population is so affected. On the other hand, the decline in quotations has had beneficial results in that it has corrected the tight money situation through reduction of over $2,000,000,000 in loans to brokers in October. This means cheaper money, which should have the eventual result of stimulating building construction and various other lines.

Actually the stock market rose in 1929 in reflection of the unusual business prosperity that has prevailed. But the speculative fever ran too high. When the decline began the pendulum swung too far downward, giving a distorted picture of the moderate readjustment now proceeding in the automobile, steel, and a few other lines. The rush of many thousands of investors for bargains in stocks when they appeared demonstrated not only the huge existing supply of investment funds in the country but also the vast faith in the outlook for industry.

NEWS of the CHURCHES

Preacher From
Mt. Morris Will Be Here This Eve

Noble A. Bolinger, pastor of Mt. Morris Christian church, who speaks in tonight's Pentecost Rally, in Dixon Christian church, on the subject, "All Together and Forward!"

The third in the series of ten special church rallies, being held among the Christian churches of four counties, comes tonight, in the Dixon church. Those preceding, at Polo and Pine Creek, were well attended, and enthusiastic in promotion of advance aims for the churches, in the current campaign to signalize the 100th anniversary of the First Christian Pentecost, A. D. 30, "the church's birthday."

The speakers this evening will be N. A. Bolinger, whose engraving and subject appear above, and S. P. Spainhower of Rockford Central church, who will give the first address, "The Spirit of the First Pentecost." Mr. Spainhower has recently been called to the Rockford church, and is widely known over Illinois, for his place and work in Rockford, Ill.

during the distracting times of the "Williamson County Massacre."

The local pastor will preside, and the church choir direct the music, with special numbers by the ladies' quartet. Charts, maps, and tracts will be used in the program, giving fullest explanation and publicity to the recommendations of the general pentecost committee of fifteen. Chas. R. Scoville, chairman, Jesse M. Badger, secretary and H. H. Peters, treasurer, C. Roy Stauffer of Atlanta, Ga., is also a member of this committee, which in conjunction with a world committee of sixty, is planning for a great world convention of Churches of Christ, in Washington, D. C., Oct. 19-23, immediately following the annual international convention in the same city.

GRACE EVANGELICAL

The special evangelistic services in Grace church are growing in interest despite the inclemency of the weather. Rev. R. R. Heidenreich gave a very helpful message on Monday evening on Consecration, Rom. 6:13 "But yield yourselves unto God, as those that are alive from the dead."

Rev. H. C. Stephan presented the truth on Tuesday evening from the text, Matt. 15:25, "Lord help me." The speaker presented the thought of our utter dependence upon God in our efforts to enlarge His kingdom. Mrs. Klein sang "Oh, Make Me Clean."

Rev. S. G. Eberly will bring the message tonight. The public is heartily welcome to attend these services.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

A nice company were present last night at the church when Mr. Kindig began the Song Service. The audience had a very enjoyable time as he taught them new hymns and choruses and played on that splendid new instrument, the Vibro Harp. Then Mr. and Mrs. Kindig sang as a duet, "The Marvellous Grace of Our Loving Lord," accompanying themselves on the Marimba. The pastor spoke on "The Simplicity of Salvation" using as his text John 1st chapter, verses 11 to 13. He said:

"This text is very simple but also very sublime. It contains a simple Gospel that appeals to the most ignorant and yet has a message that grips the wise. Look at the sweet simplicity of receiving Christ and believing on His Name. This is a distinctive act and a personal step and it is a person whom we are to receive, not a Church, not a breed

His Vote Cost $240

Here is a picture of a minor Democratic landslide. In New York's mayoralty election, the 38th district in the heart of the uptown business section of Manhattan went unanimously for Mayor Jimmy Walker—and the total number of votes cast was 1. George Schrader, center, was the only registered voter in the district, and for his benefit the city was obliged to spend $240 in turning out an election board and patrolmen to guard the polling place. Duly appointed Republican and Democratic watchers were on hand to see that everything was carried out properly.

receive, not a Church, not a breed but a person and faith in Him brings us salvation and the gift of the power to become the Sons of God. The Roman who wanted to adopt a child took him to the forum and having taken from him his old clothing and invested him with the Roman toga, claiming him before the magistrates as his son, admitted that child into the privileges of full sonship under the Roman law. "This glorious gift is brought to us by the Holy Spirit and the mystery-ous new birth spoken of to Nicodemus by our Lord is the result. This new birth is absolutely necessary, wonderfully radical, intensely mysterious, entirely superhuman and assuredly ours if we receive Jesus and believe on His name.

"Captain John Smith, now living in the city of Chicago, was lost overboard from his ship inside the Great Barrier Reef off the coast of Incensland. Many years ago. He accepted the truth of this text just before he lost consciousness and was sinking for the third time. He was rescued. When he recovered on the deck of his ship, he stood up and said, 'Mates, I am born again. I have become a son of God for Jesus has saved me.' His after life proved it both as Captain and Missionary to the sailors in Glasgow."

You may be the biggest sinner living but "Jesus came into the world to save sinners." Come and find him salvation.

Tonight, the Kindigs will bring to us again their message in song and the pastor will preach on, "The Master's Love Tryst." Children's service at 4:15 P. M. We extend to everybody a very cordial welcome. Come and join with us in these meetings.

NATURE'S WRATH OFTEN FELT IN MIDDLE STATES

Red Cross Report Shows
165 Calamities in
7 1-2 Years

BY WILLIAM L. COLLINS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
St. Louis, Mo.—(UP)—Mother Nature seems to find the states between the Mississippi River and the Rockies particularly attractive ground over which to spread destruction.

Exclusive of the Mississippi Valley flood of 1927-28, 164 calamities visited this region from July 1, 1922, to June 30, 1929, according to a report recently issued by the Midwestern Area headquarters of the American Red Cross.

The greater number of these calamities were tornadoes which numbered 94. Floods totalled 36. These calamities claimed 1,012 lives and injured 3,530 persons, according to the report.

W. M. Baxter, Jr., manager of the midwestern area, said that the number of disasters requiring organized relief shows no sign of abatement.

Families Assisted
Baxter quoted figures showing that the Red Cross assisted 21,379 families, representing 106,894 people in this area.

Outstanding among the many serious disasters in the middle west since 1922 was the Missouri-Illinois Indiana tornado which began in Shannon County, Missouri, sweeping over a track nearly 400 miles long and ending its havoc-wrecking journey near Princeton, Indiana. Eight hundred persons were killed more than 300 were seriously injured, and thousands of others received first aid treatment.

Baxter states in his report, that in addition to first aid and life-saving the Red Cross is active in many forms of rehabilitation work following calamities. One of the most important tasks of the organization after a disaster, is the re-establishment of the basis for credit in the stricken area.

SEEK WARRANTS FOR ARREST OF BANK OFFICERSAll Connected With
Flint Embezzlement
Will Be Tried

Flint, Mich., Nov. 12—(AP)—Warrants for the group of junior officers of the Union Industrial Bank who used more than three and a half million dollars of its funds to speculate in the stock market and were caught in the crash a fortnight ago will be asked within the next few days, Prosecutor Charles D. Beagle announced today. The prosecutor has been in almost daily conference with high officers of the bank, the State Banking Commissioner and others concerned in determining the total amount of the shortage and the number of men involved in it.

No warrants will be asked, the prosecutor said, until the investigators are certain that all who took part in the defalcations are known. "We will prosecute all of them together," he said. "There will be no 'whitewashing' of this case. The directors are unanimous that any one who has converted bank money for personal use shall be prosecuted."

Although the misuse of the bank's funds is said to have extended over a period of nearly two years, it was discovered only when the stock market collapse came and the men involved were called upon to protect their margin accounts. Even when the Industrial Savings Bank and the Union Trust & Savings Bank merged in a $31,000,000 combine last spring the misuse of the funds was not disclosed.

Charles S. Mott, multimillionaire and three time mayor of Flint, has replaced the missing funds in cash, dollar for dollar from his personal fortune. Already he has deposited in the bank $3,592,000. On one occasion an armored car came here from Detroit with $1,000,000 in currency.

HEALTH TEACHER AND PHILANTHROPIST ARRIVES IN
DIXON, ILLINOIS

Marvelous Work of New Medicine Told.
Ford Hopkins Co. to Introduce New,
Advanced Remedy for General Ill Health.

It will no doubt be of vital interest to all sufferers as well as the public in general to know that the Kavatone Man, the famous health teacher and philanthropist, whose campaign in behalf of natural treatment of present day ailments has aroused so much interest in other cities recently, will arrive in this city Thursday, November 14th, introducing a most remarkable herbal tonic known as KAVATONE which is prepared in liquid form from roots, barks, and leaves that are placed on earth for the healing of mankind.

If you were told that one single medicine put hundreds of men and women back to work in various cities after they have been idle for months with health troubles, it would sound impossible wouldn't it? And that countless people were so completely relieved of rheumatism and neuritis that they were able to walk normally again without cane and crutches, and that this same medicine restored health to men and women who suffered stomach and kidney troubles for years and that complete relief had come in cases of misery where health resorts, expensive treatments and medicine upon medicine had failed. Indeed it seems impossible yet it is true that the Kavatone Man is coming to the Ford Hopkins Co. to prove that these things are true and can be accomplished right here in this city.

It is said that this new herb medicine possesses a combination of nature's herbs not found in any other preparation today and that it has proven the most effective, agreeable tonic laxative yet discovered. Acting on the elimination and not on the bowels alone, it cleans, helps to tone and strengthen weakened conditions of the system and stimulates these organs to a more vigorous activity in a mild, general, natural way without discomfort or distress and the only after effect is a glorious and beneficial relief.

This medicine referred to is the new KAVATONE HERB TONIC and the Kavatone Man himself will be at the Ford Hopkins Co. starting Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. He will talk to everyone personally and explain this celebrated compound. He will also give away free samples of this surprising medicinal preparation.

Wherever introduced, this KAVATONE HERBAL TONIC has proven to be vastly more effective in thousands of cases of ill health than any previously known medicine. It is a remarkable liquid compound for the following well known troubles:

RHEUMATISM: Especially severe cases where pains are intense, aches and swelling of the joints and soreness of the muscles, in milder cases Kavatone relieves suffering almost at once.

STOMACH, LIVER, KIDNEY AND BOWEL TROUBLES: Nearly all forms of misery that arise from these unhealthy organs have been so quickly relieved by Kavatone that men and women sufferers were surprised everywhere. It is the action of this medicine on the organs of the inter-system that removes the toxic poison from the body and brings quick relief in so many cases.

The secret of this KAVATONE HERBAL TONIC is the way it acts upon the important functional organs of the body, namely, the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels.

After the great accomplishment and wonderful work of KAVATONE HERBAL TONIC in other sections, it is declared that this medicine is what thousands of sufferers in Dixon and vicinity have long needed to actually reach their cases, and preparations are made for the "Kavatone Man" to be at Ford Hopkins Co. at 9 o'clock sharp, and will daily meet the public and introduce and explain the merits of this new remedy, "KAVATONE HERBAL TONIC."

DEATH CLOSES STRANGE LIFE OF PRINCESS

Sister of Ex-Kaiser
Died In Prussia
This Morning

Bonn, Prussia, Nov. 13. —(AP)—Frau Alexander Zuko, 63, who was Princess Victoria von Prussia, sister of the former Kaiser, and grandchild of the British Queen, Victoria, died today in her modest residence here, ending one of the strangest romances written into the records of European royalty.

Death came while she slept at 7:30 A. M. and followed a brief illness which began last week shortly after her husband, Alexander Zuko, Russian adventurer who was 34 years her junior, was served with divorce papers on her behalf.

Frau Zuko, when she married in 1927, renounced her rights as Princess and accepted estrangement from her family. Members here today at her death were her "baby" sister, Marguerite, Princess von Hessen; her husband, Prince Frederick, Charles, and their two sons, Christof and Richard.

Although her fatal illness came upon her only a few days ago the last months of the Princess were far from happy, and were spent in most modest quarters here in loneliness, poverty and disillusionment.

Just a month ago she was forced to auction off heirlooms of great value to pay the debts of her adventurer husband but she succeeded in raising only a small amount. Bankruptcy proceedings previously had been instituted against her when she failed to meet obligations contracted by Zuko.

Air mail lines of the United States are now transporting ten tons of air mail, or 800,000 letters, every 24 hours.

Not Proper To Punch Lady's Nose, Ruling

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The proper etiquette for a man when he is refused by a young lady is not, according to a ruling, to punch her on the nose.

When Judge Samuel Heller heard about it, he admonished Curcio, "Upon such occasions," said the court, "be nonchalant, be polite, be chivalrous."

To make the lesson effective, Judge Heller fined Curcio $25. Curcio paid, politely and with nonchalance.

COMPLETION OF WATERWAYS IN 5 YEARS URGED

Mississippi Valley Association on Record for Program

St. Louis, Nov. 13.—(UP)—The Mississippi Valley Association was on record today as favoring completion of inland waterway projects within five years, after adjournment of its annual convention here.

Resolution adopted favored "connection of the inland system with the Great Lakes chain by improvement of the Illinois and Des Moines rivers and construction of the sanitary canal from Chicago to the Mississippi river as a Federal project."

Legislation acted upon at the convention will be stressed in Congress in December.

William R. Dawes, Chicago, was re-elected president of the association for the ensuing year. Other officers were Thomas P. Cunningham, New Orleans, re-elected Vice President; and Richard Hawes, St. Louis, Treasurer.

John H. Kelly, Sioux City, Ia., and W. P. Lady, Gadsden, Tex., were added as District Vice Presidents.

Two additional states were granted seats on the Board of Directors, North Dakota and Oklahoma now having representation.

In commenting upon legislation sanctioned at the association, Dawes said the convention has agreed upon a broad program which would result in the speedy completion of the waterways system.

Youth's Nerve Gave Albie Booth Thrill

Bridgeport, Conn., Nov. 13.—(UP)—"Don't try to fool me—this isn't Albie Booth—why I could take that little fellow out myself."

Robert (Bussy) Stevens, Stratford high school line man who lost a leg because of a football injury, was a bit disappointed, for friends had promised to bring the Yale backfield star to visit him at Bridgeport hospital.

But it was Booth, Albie flew down to Bridgeport in an airplane after classes yesterday.

The two youths chatted. "I had planned to attend the Army game," said Bussy, "but (slapping his hip) this came along and put me back. Right now I'm all set to get out of here but the doctor says to stick around for a couple days more or all the nurses will get lonesome."

"You have nerve to laugh it off this way," said Albie.

"Hey," called Bussy as Albie was leaving, "give those Princeton boys a run will you. I'll be listening in on the radio."

Ex-Mayor Michael Cashman was given 1,612 ballots and will be the other candidate on election day, Dec. 3. Gillis had served a term in the House of Correction for assaulting Cashman.

He served twice at the Washington Embassy, first from 1905 to 1907, and later in 1919 and 1920. Sir Ronald once was Ambassador to Turkey and again Ambassador at Berlin. Chicago Alumni To Praise Maroon Team

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—University of Chicago alumni tonight will praise members of their Maroon football team for taking their advice.

A year ago, the grads invited the team to its annual banquet and bluntly condemned it for not showing proper Maroon spirit, for not taking training seriously enough and the leanest seasons in Chicago's gridiron history. That was one of iron history. Not a Big Ten contest was won.

This season, the Maroons have shown as much fight and spirit as any team Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg ever directed and have victories over Princeton and Indiana and a good pre-conference record, and the alumni plan to cheer them and Stagg as well as pep them up for a valiant squad against Illinois Saturday.

Southern California Star Has Influenza

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Harry Edelson, first string halfback of the University of Southern California gridsters, probably will not be in the lineup when the Trojans face Notre Dame in Soldier Field, Chicago.

Not until Coach Howard Jones and his 38 proteges had left last night for the east did it become known that Edelson was in a hospital suffering from influenza. Arrangements have been made for him to fly to Chicago Friday with Dr. Harold Van Metre if he recovers sufficiently by that time but University officials said he would not be permitted to make the trip unless his recovery is complete.

Marger Apsit, who played almost the entire game against Notre Dame last year and scored one of the U. S. C. touchdowns, probably will start in Edelson's stead if a substitution is necessary.

Eddie Shea Signed To Fight Easterner

WOULDN'T TAKE ANYTHING FOR GLY-CAS RELIEF

"Every Medicine I'd Tried Before Turned Out to be a Failure," Mr. Osborn Declares.

So scientifically compounded, so solid mass, to effect a remarkable cleansing and corrective action of the stomach, liver, bowels and blood, this amazing new vegetable discovery, Gly-Cas continues to give surprising relief in thousands of cases which had stubbornly defied every other preparation tried.

"I would take anything for what Gly-Cas has done for me because it's actually the first medicine that didn't turn out to be a failure in my case," Mr. John Osborn, widely-known resident of Exello, Ohio, near Middletown, recently said. "My digestive organs had been in terrible condition for years. Everything I ate formed gases, bloated me and then awful pains began to shoot around my heart and my stomach felt exactly as if a hardstone had formed in it. I was discouraged and didn't know what was going to happen to me. But all this was before I got Gly-Cas. I tell you, never had such a medicine as it is."

No difference what I eat now, the food agrees with me, I have no more of the awful gas formations or cake-like misery in my stomach and I'm simply more like my old self than I've been at any time in years."

Gly-Cas is sold in Dixon at the Campbell White Cross Pharmacy, 204 Franklin Grove, G. S. Ives, Charters, Amboy, Aschenbrenner, Drug, Compton, W. H. Hills, Rochelle, Barker & Sullivan and by leading druggists in all surrounding towns.—Adv.

RACE STILL BIG "IF"

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Seven-teen of the twenty-five Big Ten football games for 1929 have been decided, but so complex is the remaining schedule that the championship race is still a big "if."

Seemingly, it all depends on Purdue, present leader in the struggle, with three victories and no defeats. If the Boilermakers can conquer Iowa Saturday and then defeat Indiana next week or if they only get a tie and a win in the two battles, they will have undisputed possession of the title. It may all end in a muddle.

These are some of the more reasonable "ifs" set forth by still hopeful students, alumni, coaches and players.

If Purdue loses one, it will be tied for first place by Minnesota and Northwestern provided Minnesota defeats Michigan and Wisconsin and Northwestern defeats Indiana.

If Purdue loses both games, Minnesota and Northwestern will share the championship with four victories and one defeat each if they win their remaining games.

If Purdue loses to Iowa and ties Indiana; if Minnesota wins one and ties one; if Northwestern ties one, then those three teams will be deadlocked for the championship along with Iowa and the winner of the Ohio State-Illinois game. That is if Illinois defeats Chicago Saturday.

If Northwestern ties one and Purdue loses both, Minnesota will have clear claim to the title. The same chance holds for Northwestern if Purdue and Minnesota oblige, of course.

If Purdue, Northwestern and Minnesota lose their remaining games, and Ohio State and Illinois tie each other, then Iowa will be undisputed champion.

Only Michigan, Indiana and Wisconsin are definitely out of the speculative championship picture.

Both Iowa and Purdue expect to throw their full forces together in Saturday's crucial battle at LaFayette. All five of the Iowa cripples were in uniform last night—Roberts and Myers, regular ends; Hagerty and Thomas, fullbacks, and Mastrogiani, a regular end. The Boilermaker "shock troops" are in splendid physical condition because of a rest last Saturday. Both teams will spring new plays during the fray and each is comfortably confident of victory, especially the Hawks, who spoiled Minnesota's championship hopes Saturday.

Indiana and Northwestern, which tangle at Evanston Saturday, were developing their defenses for the battle. The Hoosiers are laboring mostly on their forward wall while the Wildcats are attempting to solve the intricate Indiana offense.

At Michigan, Coach Harry Kipke was trying all the heaviest men he could find from both the reserves and regular squads for the line in preparing for Minnesota. Meanwhile the Gophers were looking for someone to replace the injured Munn at left tackle. Bronko Nagurski may get the job although he showed impressively at fullback against Iowa. Judd Timm and Frosty Peters are on the injured list at Illinois so Coach Bob Zuppke has been forced to shift his backfield to get a winning punch to use against Chicago, which is getting a flock of new plays this week from the crafty Coach Amos Alonzo Stagg.

Sammy Behr, Wisconsin's first ranking quarterback, has returned to practice and the Badgers are working methodically for the invasion of Minnesota a week from Saturday. Ohio State, which will be idle along with the Badgers, was cheered by the return of Quarterback Coffey last night. Coffey was under suspension for breaking rules.

BIG GAME IN CHICAGO

BY ALAN J. GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor
New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—On the already well-established theory that they do come back, even if it takes a trip of 2,000 miles for the purpose, southern California's Trojans figure to be the team to stop Notre Dame's rush Saturday before some 130,000 spectators at Soldier Field, Chicago.

On the also well-established fact that Notre Dame, even with Knute Rockne able to direct them only on a part time basis, has turned out the greatest Hoosier array since the "Four Horsemen." The unchecked South Bend cyclone figures to sweep over the Trojans and on toward a national championship.

It is an argument that depends on the point of view. It won't be settled probably until the dusk settles along the shore of Lake Michigan, but if this intersectional battle doesn't turn out to be one of the greatest of the season, it will not be for the lack of spectacular elements. Those who like the chances of southern California see the Trojans bounding across the country to tone for their unexpected setback at the hands of California. U. S. S. has finished its big-game schedule on the coast and can "shoot the works" against Notre Dame, whereas the Hoosiers still have Northwestern and the Army to worry about.

Notre Dame, on the other hand, has taken its last two games "in stride" to be at the peak for Southern California. For the first time since beating Carnegie, Rockne himself will be on the sidelines, even though his ailing leg will keep him in a wheel chair. The psychology of this alone will be a big stimulant to the Hoosiers.

Thought it may be argued most of Notre Dame's victims so far have been manhandled by other teams, the fact remains that Rockne's Ramblers have convincingly disposed of one of the severest schedules tackled by any team. The workmanlike play of the team, directed on the field by Frank Carideo, one of the best quarterbacks of the season, has impressed even its critics. The polish and the punch is unquestionably there.

The part that the two strong, hard-charging lines will play in this drama may be the decisive factor, however, much of the spotlight may be on Carideo or Elder, Duffield or Moses. Flanked by such fine ends as Tapaan and Arbelbide, Southern California's line has a massive central trio, featuring George Dye at the pivotal position and Capt. Nate Barrager, a guard of All-American calibre. Notre Dame also is well equipped on the ends with a fine pass receiver in Colrick and such other stalwarts as Capt. Law, Moynihan and Cannon.

When the debate shifts to battering-ram fullbacks, Earl "Powerhouse" Pomeroy of the champion University of Utah team should not be overlooked. An expert observer in the Rocky Mountain area remarks:

"In the games Pomeroy has stolen the show every time, with an average of about eight yards per try, using a straight drive. Marvin Jonas, strapping center, who helps clear the way for Pomeroy, is another big factor in the success of Ike Armstrong's Utes."

Utah, with one of the most powerful scoring machines in the country, is headed toward its third conference championship in four years.

Dr. R. N. Blackwell of Southern Methodist, most enterprising of the Southwestern Conference schools in broadening its fields of football activity, stoutly defends the conference against attacks, criticism or insinuation that it tolerates "subsidizing and recruiting." The Carnegie report noted a comparative lack of proselytizing in the great Southwest. "No one is allowed to solicit for athletes," asserts Dr. Blackwell, citing rules as stringent as those of the Yale-Harvard-Princeton pact of 1923.

He adds: "If a university has a good football team and wins a championship it always brings forth the question of 'paid athletes,' regardless of the justification of the charge. If the university loses all of its football games nothing is said. Is it reasonable to expect a good football team to be any more harmful in its effects upon a student body as a whole than it is to expect Philadelphia business men to go to rack and ruin because they had a championship baseball team this year?"

From a Long Island weekly newspaper:

"A few weeks back we had occasion to encounter the star football player (who received a scholarship at college). This was to have been his last year. To the inquiry as to why he was not on the gridiron he replied: 'My leg is all shot and I can't play football any more. When a college is paying you to play the game and your leg goes bad, what else are you going to do?'"

Among those mentioned as possible successors to Enoch Bagshaw, who resigned under fire as head football coach at the University of Washington, are Harry Stuhldreher of Villanova, Ike Armstrong of Utah and Dr. Clarence Spears of Minnesota.

Stuhldreher seems to be "mentioned" whenever a big coaching job bobs up. The former leader of the "Four Horsemen" of Notre Dame has built himself a fine reputation at Villanova, where his contract still has some time to go. He was "mentioned" not so long ago as a possible successor to Gil Dett at Cornell, but Gil has cast another winning team as an anchor to windward.

Spears, it is noted by L. H. Gregory in the Portland Oregonian, once came within a telegram of accepting a job on the Pacific Coast, his health interfering at the time. Presumably this was the University of Oregon, which subsequently engaged John J. McEwan, the one-time All-American center and Army star.

Would Put Beauty of Snowflakes
In Giant Skyscraper's Lines

The 40-Wall St. Building will be one of New York's tallest. William La Zinsk, architect, shown in inset, says skyscrapers should follow the same beauty principles as trees and snowflakes. Above are sketches for terra cotta detail on the building, show development of shadow and light.

SNOWFLAKES, skyscrapers, grass blades, setbacks and budding leaves.

The same principles of beauty apply to all, asserts William La Zinsk, vice president of H. Craig Severance, Inc., planning the Bank of the Manhattan Co. Building at 40 Wall Street, which will probably be New York's tallest building, at least for a while after its completion. The height is to be more than 340 feet, with 63 stories and a number of pent house floors, according to present plans.

The silhouette of the huge structure, and the decorative plan, with its high-up recesses, six feet deep in shadow, follow the same laws which decree beauty in a leaf, or the petal of a flower, according to Mr. LaZinsk.

The light buff terra cotta in which the ornamental detail is worked out, catches the light at varying angles, and lends the eye along lines and planes worked out in accordance with these laws.

"The principles of beauty are universal," says Mr. LaZinsk. "They conform to the geometry of nature. The lines which are most pleasing to the eye are geometrical in form. Look at a tree for instance, or a leaf or a snowflake. Their seemingly haphazard charm can be analyzed in circles, arcs, angles and planes. The artist who studies these principles and is also an architect, can apply them in creating charm for the modern building."

In working out the designs of the ornamental terra cotta on the giant 40 Wall Street building, the architect was able, because of the plasticity of the material, to obtain an unusual number of angles and therefore an unusual combination of shadows and lights of varying degrees.

Fugazy Finally Sold Out Completely To Garden

BY EDWARD J. NEIL

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The older change, giving place to the new in such striking fashion that the late Tex Rickard, if he could ever visit again the boxing scene he once dominated, would hardly know them.

Humbert J. Fugazy was once Rickard's business enemy, his rival for supremacy in the field of cauliflowerers. In the end Tex conquered humble Humbert, drove him to Brooklyn to promote his summer shows, and lifted Madison Square Garden to such successful heights that the little Italian could never procure the necessary backing for an indoor arena.

Today Fugazy is the toast of the "600 millionaires" of whom Rickard was so proud. Through his pleasant associations with Bill Carey, successor to the presidency of the Garden, and Frank Bruen, the General Manager, Humbert came to dicker with the Garden and ended by turning over to them two of the most previous cauliflower chatters in the heavyweight sock market.

For a sum general estimated as $65,000, Fugazy sold to the Garden the one contract for Max Schmeling's services recognized by the New York State Athletic Commission as taking precedent over all others. He further gave up his contracts with

Bad Stomach Cause
of Bad Skin

You can't expect to have a good clear fresh-looking complexion if your stomach is weak and disordered.

Undigested food sends poisons through your whole body, pimples appear in your face, skin grows sallow and muddy and loses its color. Your tongue becomes coated, breath most unpleasant. But these troubles will end quickly and skin clear up if you will start today taking that simple herbal compound known to druggists as Tanlac.

Tanlac contains nothing but herbs, barks and roots which have a cleansing, healing effect on a poor upset stomach. Just a teaspoonful before each meal stimulates the digestion naturally so that you can eat what you want without fear of distress. And when your stomach is in good shape again see how much keener your appetite is—watch how quickly skin begins to grow free of disfiguring eruptions. The cost of Tanlac is less than 2c a dose. KEARNS SENDING
LOUGHRAN TITLE

Sagacious Manager Is Ahead Of Others In Fighting Circles

By BERT DEMBY

United Press Staff Correspondent
Chicago, Nov. 13.—(UP)—Sagacious Jack Kearns, who usually is a step ahead of other fight managers, again is showing his foresightedness by sending Mickey Walker after the light heavyweight title which Tommy Loughran left vacant.

Apparently Jack started thinking as soon as Loughran deserted the 150 pound ranks, to go after bigger game in the heavyweight division. Kearns thinks that his man can whip any light heavy in the country and he has instructed Nate Lewis, who makes the matches for the Chicago Stadium, to get all leading 175 pounders to meet Walker at "any price."

That "any price" angle is something new for Kearns. Jack has been in the habit of putting his fighters into the ring only when the price is right. But he apparently believes that he is wise to take what he can get in the hope that Walker can fight his way to the top of the light-heavyweight division.

There aren't a lot of people who doubt that Walker can get there.

Right now Mickey is middleweight champion and he recently demonstrated that there is no doubt about his 160 pound supremacy by beating Ace Hudkins the only logical contender, on the Pacific coast in a title match.

Too, Mickey has shown that he can give away weight and beat the light-heavyweights. Never weighing more than 167 pounds, he has knocked out Armand Emmanuel and Mike McTigue and has beaten other good 175 pound fighters.

Besides that he fought Tommy Loughran, then the light-heavyweight champion, a whale of a fight for Loughran's title. So close was the battle that the referee gave the fight to Walker while the two judges decreed that Loughran's boxing ability entitled him to the decision.

Lewis already is making plans for a light-heavyweight title match. Nate thinks that he can match the winner of the bout between Jimmy Braddock and Maxie Rosenbloom with Walker for the title.

Braddock, bane of the life of Loughran, and out here they believe he can beat Rosenbloom but they don't think he can beat Walker. Jimmy convinced the middleweight that he is a great fighter when he knocked Tuffy Griffith, who now looms as a threat for the heavy-weight title, but who was only a light-heavyweight when he fought Braddock.

Lewis said he plans to make a "substantial offer" for a match between either Braddock or Rosenbloom and Walker. "I intend to make the match a title affair," Lewis said. "I believe the New York and Pennsylvania commissions would recognize the winner of that fight as champion and I'm going to consult officials of the national boxing association to see if they will do the same."

"I'm sure they will. That match certainly looks to me as if it is the leading light-heavyweight affair of the country and I think all boxing fans will agree with me."

Veteran Takes Lead
In Long Bike Race

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Reggie McNamara, the 42-year-old "iron man" of the bicycle track, early today was pedalling towards his 14th six-day race victory, a mark he has been trying for the past two years to achieve.

McNamara and his partner, Gaetano Belloni, veteran Italian rider, were one lap ahead at the 127th hour this morning. The race ends at 11 o'clock tonight.

The 127th hour standings were:
Team Miles Laps Points
Belloni-McNamara 1965 9 119
Rausch-Duelberg 1965 8 131
Letourner-Brocardo 1965 8 86
Winter-Walthour 1965 7 143

Eddie Tells How Bridge Is Played

Eddie Quillian, youthful Pathe star, is still a quipping. It is no querulous quirk of the mind that induces Eddie to query into the intricacies of the game that causes rifts in the closest friendships and breaks up happy families. But quite in the spirit of the scientist who records merely what he sees does Eddie take a fall out of Bridge. The world should be the happier for his investigation. Here is a typical game, as Eddie sees it:

FIRST ROUND

SOUTH: Bids one club.
WEST: Bids one diamond.
NORTH: Looks sheepishly at partner and bids one heart.
EAST: Blows nose, averts eyes from partner and bids one spade.

SECOND ROUND

SOUTH: Gives partner a dirty look and bids two clubs.
WEST: Sighs resignedly and bids two spades.
NORTH: Sticks out jaw pugnaciously and bellows "three hearts!"
EAST: Sanguinely bids three spades.

THIRD ROUND

SOUTH: Shrugs shoulders helplessly and passes.
WEST: Passes nervously.
NORTH: Knits eyebrows, contemplates for a moment, bites lip, looks murderously at partner, scans hand again and finally slams cards down on table and byes.
EAST: Beams (spades are now trumps).

FOURTH ROUND

SOUTH: Waits for West to lay down spades so that he may lead.
WEST: Lays down the dunces of spades, and then before South leads, lays down the rest of his hand.
NORTH: Laughs out loud.
EAST: Draws a six-shooter and shoots partner. Remaining players cheer loudly.

BOOTLEG BALL
NOW BANISHED
FROM GRIDIRON

Prompt Action Stopped
Its Use By Passing Teams

BY TED VOSBURGH

(Associated Press Sports Writer)
New York, Nov. 13.—(AP)—The bootleg football, bane of the life of gridiron officials the latter part of last season, apparently has vanished from the earth as a result of vigorous activity against it, reports E. K. Hall, Chairman of the National Football Rules Committee.

"Not a single instance of use of the bootleg football has come to my attention, this year," he said.

"It looks as though we nipped it in the bud when we nailed it at the source a few months ago by warning all the manufacturers and by making our specifications for the official ball more definite," he said.

"I received one mailing letter from a manufacturer who said he had a big stock of the bootleg balls on hand but that was all.

The illegal balls that made their appearance in considerable numbers late last season were designed primarily to aid in passing, accordingly they were made with a pronounced 'snout' on which the passer could get a grip. But this season we have no more reports of a salesman approaching a coach with his wares and announcing, 'I see you have a good passing team; you had better get one of our special balls, designed particularly for passing.'"

As to the present football rules, Mr. Hall indicated there was little prospect of any but the most minor changes in the actual content of the code. The new fumble rule, he thinks, is here to stay.

In its form and phrasing, however, the rule book is being made over from front to back. A tentative draft on the reclassified rules in fact already has been completed and a printer's proof was placed on Mr. Hall's desk today.

As re-written, the football code contains a number of definitions which are expected to prove useful particularly in enabling the general public to comprehend the intricacies of the game.

Lewis Will Attempt To Regain His Crown

Los Angeles, Nov. 13.—(AP)—Ed "Strangler" Lewis, former heavyweight wrestling champion, again will seek to regain his lost laurels in the ring here tonight in a bout with Gus Sonnenberg, title holder.

The match, with the championship going to the winner of two out of three falls, follows one staged here several weeks ago when Sonnenberg won the deciding fall after seconds for both grapplers had jumped into the ring. The dispute which followed brought about the re-match.

WEST HAS EDGE
OVER EAST THUS FAR THIS SEASON

Intersectional Games Are Showing Western Grid
Teams The Best

BY GEORGE KIRKSEY

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Nov. 13.—(UP)—Supremacy of the west over the east in football is again in evidence this season if the outcome of intersectional games can be taken as a basis of comparison.

Seven out of 10 intersectional games between the east and west have resulted in victories for the westerners.

Two of the east's three victories were scored by the University of Pittsburgh's unbeaten eleven, probably the strongest combination in the eastern region. Pitt beat Ohio State, 18 to 2, and Nebraska, 12 to 7. The other eastern victory was scored by Colgate over Indiana, 21 to 6.

Scores of seven other prominent western victories follow:

California 12, Pennsylvania 7.
Illinois 17, Army 7.
Michigan 14, Harvard 12.
Nebraska 13, Syracuse 6.
Notre Dame 14, Navy 7.
Chicago 15, Princeton 7.
Wisconsin 13, Colgate 6.

Against southern teams, the east with the exception of Yale, has fared better. Georgia beat Yale, 15 to 0 and Maryland held the Elis to a 13-13 deadlock last week.

New York University conquered Georgia last week, 27-19. Pennsylvania beat V. P. I., 14-8, and Harvard beat Florida 14-0, in the three outstanding eastern victories over southern teams.

The east has a chance to redeem itself somewhat in several intersectional games remaining on the season's schedule.

New York University plays Missouri Saturday at Yankee Stadium. On Saturday, November 30 Army meets Notre Dame at New York.

Carnegie Tech will go west Saturday, Dec. 14, to play southern California and on Saturday, December 28 Army travels to Palo Alto to play Stanford.

Longer Men Ride,
Fatter They Get

Chicago, Nov. 13.—(AP)—A tuckler on statistics comes forth with the news that the faster cyclists pedal in Chicago's six-day bike race the fatter they get.

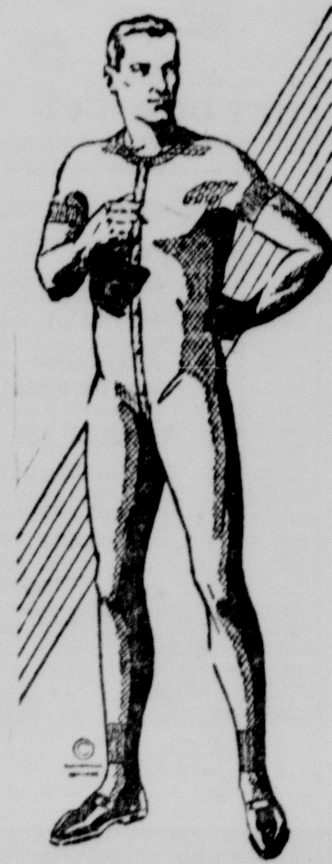

All the leaders in the race, now in its sixth day, have gained weight, figures prove, while the losers are getting thin.

Real Drama in Sound Film of Murder Confession

"I talked a while with her, and her father went upstairs . . . I said, 'Lee, don't leave me' . . . Then I went crazy and pulled my gun and shot her . . ." There were thrills a-plenty in the talking movie shown to judges, criminologists and police officials in Philadelphia the other day. For it was an actual sight-and-sound record of a murder confession, and part of the film is pictured above. William E. Peters, who admitted killing Miss Leona Fischback, appears at the left, and at the right are Philadelphia's Detective Inspector William Connelly, who questioned the prisoner, and an official stenographer. The confession is recorded on the left of the film, between the pictures and the perforations. Judges said such sound films probably would be admissible as court room evidence, and that they would be a great aid in preventing retractions of confessions.

They Must Be Pretty Good Friends

Whether you can get away with a brushing up job as Miss Betty Harris, society deb of Beverly Hills, Calif., is doing here all depends on whether the elephant like you or not. Minnie just had to have her beauty massage bed—she—and, well, Miss Harris seated herself very comfortably on the elephant's trunk and went at it.

Wonder If He Gets Paid for It?

If this is one of the duties connected with working in the vineyards of Bordeaux, France, it can't be such a terrible job. The grape harvest has just been completed—and the young man above, with his mouth open, is having a taste of the first fruits of labor in the harvest fields of the claret country. No, it doesn't seem a bad job in the least!

A THOUGHT FOR TODAY

But every one shall die for his own iniquity; every man that eateth the grapes, his teeth shall be set on edge.—Jeremiah 31:33.

He who has it in his power to commit sin, is less inclined to do so. The very idea of being able, weakens the desire.—Ovid.

THIS HAS HAPPENED

MRS. EMMA HOGARTH, said to keep a board of money in her room on the second floor of Mrs. Rhodes' boarding house, is strangled to death. BOSS DEANER, "scab" detective, assistant LIEUT. STRAWN in the investigation. Suspicion at once falls on EMIL SEVIER, former hanger whom Mrs. Hogarth accused of trying to rob her.

Dundee, behind a screen, takes notes as Strawn quizzes the boarder. HENRY DOWD, new corner out of work, insists he was in his room all evening and heard nothing but the squeaking of a chair. Mrs. Hogarth's parrot, CORA BARKER, theater plant, suspected of having had an affair with Sevier, tells of her date with another boarder, BEET MAGNUS, amateur scenario writer, of his failure to appear, and her return to the house to hear him creak in his room at 12:30. She frankly denies being Sevier's accomplice.

NORMA PAIGE, latest boarder under Mrs. Hogarth's frequent pestered with, confesses calling a the old lady late that night. Norma admits Mrs. Hogarth was angry because of her engagement to WALTER STILES, also a boarder.

Stiles corroborates Norma's admission that she came to his room to tell him the result of the interview. He adds that after her departure he spoke to Magnus through the porch window. Magnus, under quizzing, says he typed all evening until 12:30. A red cap, property of Mrs. Rhodes' worthless husband, DUSTY, is found in and a green sweater and feather is found in the living room. Mrs. Rhodes recalls having seen the cap in the hall chest, where Sevier was searching for his raincoat. The parrot startles the group by telling "Bad Penny!"

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVII

"GRIN—blast you!" Lieutenant Strawn growled at his young assistant on the Hogarth case, but the exultant triumph in Bonnie Dundee's blue eyes was not so easily dampened.

"Mrs. Rhodes, did you ever hear Cap'n say those words before?" "Bad penny?" Bonnie asked eagerly.

"No. You could have knocked me down with a feather," the landlady answered. "That bird does not all I never saw a parrot pick up new words like he does—but he never would repeat anything but what he heard poor old Mrs. Hogarth say."

"You're sure those words have never been a part of his vocabulary before?" Dundee persisted, strangely excited.

"Of course I'm sure!" Mrs. Rhodes snapped. "I've set with Mrs. Hogarth every evening of the five years she's been here, and she'd have bragged to me about Cap'n picking up those words if he'd ever said them before. Of course I wasn't the last one to see her alive this evening. Norma paid her visit after I left, you know, and it may be that Mrs. Hogarth made some remark with 'Bad Penny' in it while she was talking to Norma."

"Well, I'll soon find out!" Strawn said abruptly, starting for the door. "By the way, Mrs. Rhodes, when I first came this evening, you said you weren't sure as to whether Daisy Shepherd was in her room or not."

"Well, that Detective Payne and I went there, when we went up to tell her that Mrs. Hogarth was dead. But she wasn't in it at five minutes after 12, or if she was, she was so sound asleep she didn't hear me knocking and calling to her."

"What's this?" Strawn demanded sharply. "Why haven't you mentioned this before?"

"Reckon you haven't give me much chance, Mr. Rhodes reminded him grimly. "About two minutes after 12, after I'd gone to bed, the telephone rang. It was a long distance for Daisy, and I went up to her room on the third floor by the back stairs, to call her. She didn't answer and I went down and told long distance she was out. I don't know where she was and I didn't see her come in, because I went back to bed."

He made a discovery which caused him to purse his lips in a low whistle of surprise.

When he had dismissed Mrs. Rhodes, Strawn called in Detective Payne, heard his report that so far no hidden sum of money had been found in any of the rooms, and instructed him to bring in Daisy Shepherd for questioning.

"Back in a minute, Dundee," Strawn called, as he himself was about to leave the room. "I'm going to ask the Paige girl if she knows anything about this 'Bad Penny' business—not that I think it's worth wasting a minute's time on."

Dundee grinned, then again seated himself behind the screen. Mrs. Hogarth's diary in his hands. Before beginning to read it from the first entry he rifled the leaves, to dislodge any memo, letter or card that might have been thrust into the book. In doing so he made a discovery which caused him to purse his lips in a low whistle of surprise. A page from the diary had been torn out—the entry for May 19. May—May—He frowned mightily in an effort to remember. Oh, yes! Cora Barker had said—He turned swiftly to his notes, found Cora Barker's story, located the sentence he was trying to remember: "So I was Mrs. Hogarth's mistress until—sometime in May, I believe it was, when she became very fond of Walter Styles, a new boarder."

He was glad now that he had taken such full notes, even to the extent of indicating hesitation between words by dashes. Cora Barker had been disinherited "some time in May." Could the date have been May 19? Dundee very carefully examined the fuzzy edge of the remainder of the torn-out sheet. There was no doubt that the tear was a recent one. Had the sheet been removed that very night? And had the entry been such that it incriminated the one whom it concerned?

Sevier and Cora Barker! After all, why look further for the old woman's murderer, when she herself had believed those two to be in a conspiracy to rob her?

But if so, how had Cora Barker helped Emil Sevier, without being on the scene of the crime while it was being committed?

"Bad penny," the parrot croaked sleepily.

Dundee was startled for a moment, then he grinned. "Thanks for reminding me, Cap'n," he called softly.

"Have you gone so crazy over this case that you're talking to yourself?" Strawn asked, returning at that moment. "Well, boy, you're right—not that I think it amounts to a hill of beans. The Paige girl says she is positive the words 'Bad penny' didn't come up in her conversation with the old lady."

DAISY SHEPHERD, escorted by Detective Payne, who immediately withdrew, stifled a very genuine-looking yawn as she entered the room.

"Excuse me," she smiled at the chief of detectives, "I went to sleep waiting for you to call for me."

"Sorry to disturb you," Strawn said.

FRANCE HUNTED FOR BODIES OF 1200 DOUGHBOYS

Efforts Continue to Identify Americans in Unmarked Graves

BY RALPH HEINZEN

United Press Staff Correspondent
Paris—(UP)—Twelve hundred American doughboys still lie in unmarked graves scattered across the cold hills of France from the Channel to the Vosges. Identification parties are still searching these lost graves and hardly a week passes without one or more bodies being found.

Of the 130,265 men in the armed forces of the United States who died during the World War, 30,794 are now buried in the American military cemeteries abroad. Twenty-seven bodies, found in lost graves during the summer by searching parties, have been transferred to the war cemeteries for burial in the alignment of white crosses.

In the eight war cemeteries, the number of American soldier dead buried today follows:

Meuse-Argonne, Romagne	14,181
Oise-Aisne, Seringes	6,010
St. Mihiel, Thiaucourt	4,151
Aisne-Marne, Belleau	2,270
Somme, Bony	1,829
Sureness, Paris	1,534
Brookwood, England	453
Flanders Field, Belgium	366

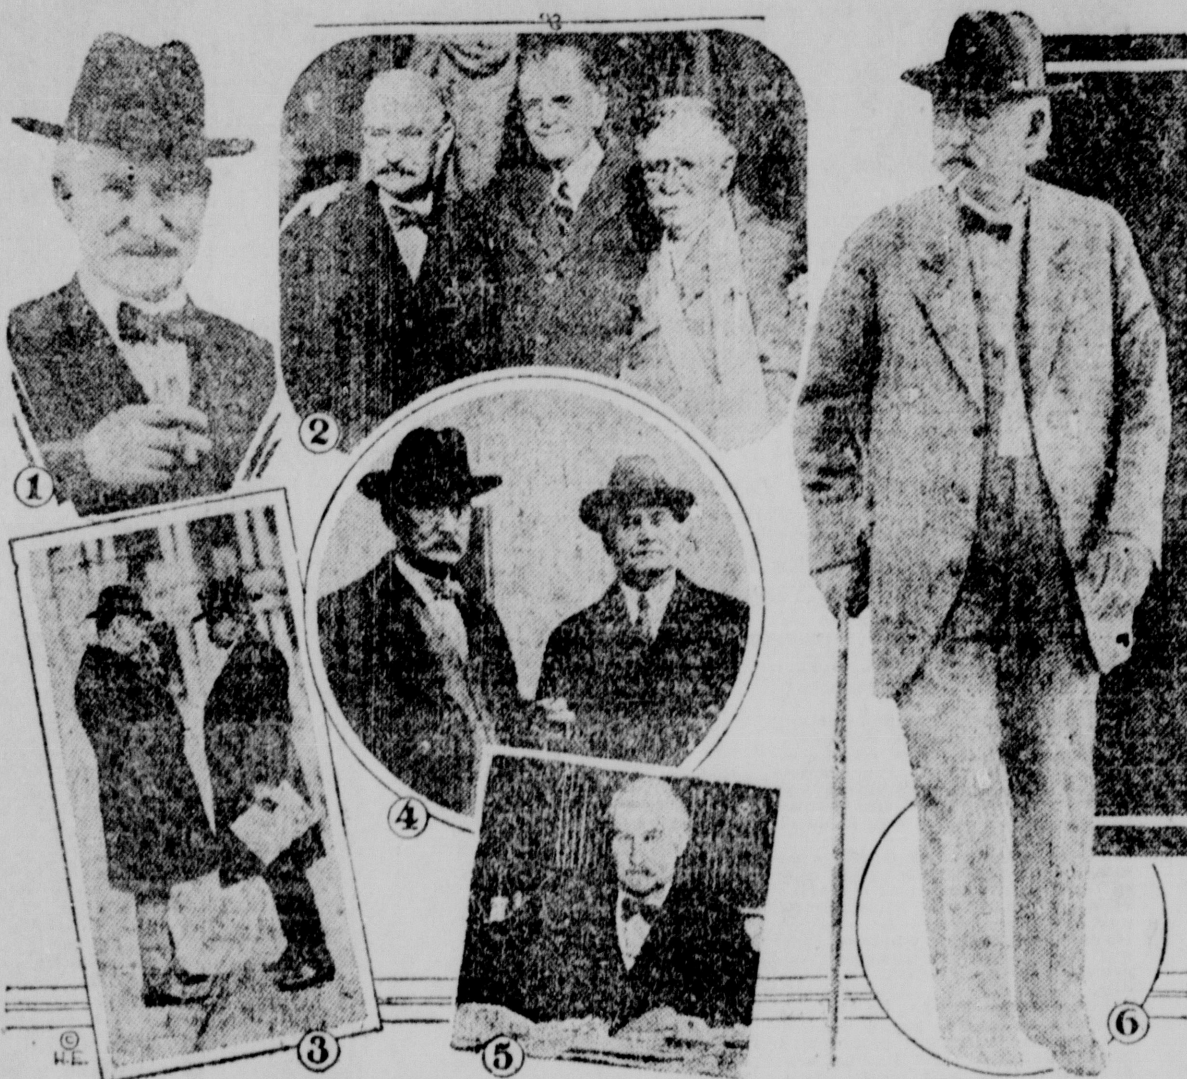

Every Grave Marked
Every grave is marked now with a permanent marker, either a cross or a star of David in white Carrara marble. The graves of unidentified soldiers, numbering about one half of one per cent of the total burials, are marked with stones bearing the inscription: "Here lies in honored glory an American soldier known but to God."

The work of finding lost graves is growing more difficult with time. In the first few years after the war, bodies were found in woods or turned up by plows of farmers as they reclaimed the battlefields for their crops.

Searching parties continue their work, however, except during the harvest season. These workers possess complete charts which enable them to identify bodies even though they have been buried for more than eleven years.

Information relative to unlocated dead is generally received voluntarily through some comrade in arms who recalls, perhaps from a magazine or newspaper article, after several years, the approximate spot at which a soldier was killed or where he was buried. This work is carried out under the Investigation and Research Branch of this service, which obtains all information possible from relatives and from other sources, generally sending to the person giving the information a contour map and requesting that the location be marked and a diligent search be made, generally with success. No definite identification is made unless it is positive and this is done finally

Tooth Charts Identify

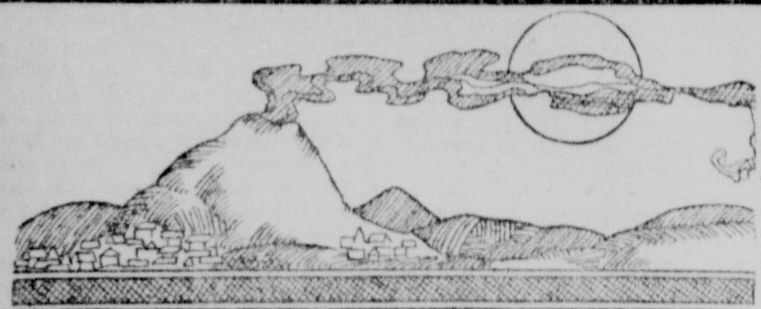

A complete system of forms and charts is kept, both in this office and in Washington, and positive identification after preliminary identification by means of parts of uniform, personal belongings, identification tag and so forth is generally made from tooth charts or from certain peculiarities known to have existed, such as broken or fractured bones and so forth.

Identification and searching parties are working at present, principally in the Meuse Argonne sector and in the Chateau Thierry-Soissons sector, but are moved to other sectors whenever information is received. Helpful information is received from French, British and German authorities. The bodies of unidentified soldiers when found are kept in the
